

Copying...

You are working on a term papers for your history and english classes. Things are going well but you are worried about running out of time and not getting finished. A friend shows you a place on the internet where you can find papers on different topics. You know this is plagiarism but figure that you can get the paper, add what you have found so far and then it will be different so it isn't really plagiarism any more.

Questions:

Is it all right to use on line paper services?

If you change or add something to one of these papers, does that make it all right to use them?
